PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Rhonda Murphy

I've met quite a few dragons here on Earth. There are two at Dry Falls, and their bodies form the cave behind the falls — the male, Taresh, forms the floor, and the female, Mariah, forms the ceiling. Mariah's head is visible on the rock wall to the right of the falls, while Taresh's eye is sometimes seen on the left.

I have clues to what dragons are, but the picture is still incomplete. They are masters of energy with 3D stone bodies along Earth's ley lines. Ley lines are the planet's neural network which dragons use to communicate with each other and control the flow of energy around the planet.

At the same time, they are higher dimensional beings who exist in 5D and higher, where time and space do not exist. They are eternal souls, part of the One Source, just as we are. There are many dragons on this planet, including the soul of Earth herself, who some call Gaia. And there are dragons on other planets and stars, as well.

Jeannine Johnson recently asked me some great questions about dragons, dragon energy, and Reiki energy. Here's the information I received to answer her questions.

Reiki is a particular way of harnessing universal energy, and it does get colored in a Reiki way. Which is beneficial, because the Reiki way eliminates the possibility of using that energy in self serving and negative ways. The Reiki atunement opens the practitioner up to pull a particular type of energy. It also colors the energy to a healing purpose so that it can't be used for negative purposes.

Dragons are ensouled beings who use energy just as humans do. Just as our energy and personalities color the energy we transmit, so do dragons color the energy they transmit with their unique energy signatures.

Just as I can send you energy to use, dragons can send us energy to use. The energy doesn't belong to the dragons, they are using the energy that exists as part of the One Source. It's not dragon's energy, it's just energy they harness and direct and use for the betterment of earth and all beings who reside here (for dragons who live here), and ultimately for the evolvment of all that is everywhere.

You can ask assistance from dragons, just as you ask angels and guides. They are people too, in the sense that dragons are ensouled beings who incarnate and evolve just like people and guides do. And energy doesn't belong to anyone, because energy by its nature must flow, so it never stays anywhere long enough to belong to someone.

Much love, Rhonda Murphy

RAKE LEAVES

Rake up fallen leaves so they don't block light to your lawn. If your lawn mower has a bagger attached to it, you can use it to shred and gather leaves at the same time. Shredded leaves mixed with grass clippings make a fine addition to your compost pile.

VEGETABLE GARDEN CLEAN UP

Remove all dead and dying or spent plants to your compost pile. Then cover your garden with some of the grass clippings, shredded leaf mixture.

Numerous pests and diseases live from year to year in dead leaves, stems, and roots, so it makes sense to do a good job of cleaning your garden and beds. Cut back the foliage from faded perennials, pull up spent annuals, and chuck it all onto the compost pile.

RECYCLING

To light up your walkway for trick or treaters, make a batch of lanterns. Just punch holes in the sides of empty cans, place a candle inside each one, and line them up on either side of your path for a great evening glow.

And remember FALL is for planting. Also an excellent time to do soil testing.

DEATH CAFE

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 9, 2022, 2-4 pm
