President's Message

Doug VanOrsdall

Dear Beloved Community of SLC Franklin-

I want to start this month's president's message by letting you know I'm not doing a "member spotlight" in this month's message, but will share some things that have been going on at our center over the last several weeks. Last month, I featured Madison Jacques in the "member spotlight", and I plan to feature Jeannine Johnson in the "member spotlight" in our December newsletter.

I feel it's important to share this message to bring everyone up to date and talk about our intentions moving forward. I'm humbled by the profound transformations we are witnessing in our midst. The winds of change are sweeping through our center like the beautiful Fall season we are currently in and adding new moments to all our spiritual journeys. It's with an open heart and an unwavering commitment to our vision and mission statements that we embrace this time as we are experiencing new opportunities here at SLC Franklin. In this wonderful place we call our "spiritual home away from home", we continue to be blessed in more ways than we can possibly imagine. We always have been, and always will be, a beacon of light for those who seek a different path—a path of open-mindedness, new thought, metaphysical exploration, and a non-denominational approach to spirituality. Our journey is unique, vibrant, and ever evolving.

To move forward and embrace this time of change, we need to acknowledge and honor our past. The experiences that have brought us to this moment are valuable lessons, each a steppingstone on our path moving forward. Let us reflect on the wisdom and growth we have gained from the past several weeks of the unique and different situations going on in our congregation. I can say with unwavering certainty that I, along with all the persons on the Board of Directors, have listened to many perspectives, opinions, insights and concerns shared by those of you who spoke with us at different times. I hope that all of you who shared your thoughts with us feel as if you were heard and and your concerns taken seriously. The policy at SLC Franklin has long been one of allowing members of the congregation to come to a scheduled board meeting, listen in to what's being discussed on the agenda for that meeting, and take that opportunity to speak with us as a collective group as we love to hear new ideas and suggestions. For those members who didn't know about this policy, we encourage you to attend any regularly scheduled board meeting on the second Sunday of each month following the service in the chapel. After the service, the board meets in the fellowship hall and the meetings range anywhere from 45 minutes up to 2.5 hours depending on what needs to be discussed and voted on. Many of you stepped forward recently to share your concerns and the entire Board took those concerns under careful consideration to figure out the best way to move forward while we navigate through some transitions. Once your views are heard, if it is a matter that requires a vote by the board, the board will go into private executive session.

We value your input and the perspectives you shared with us during these recent meetings. With the information we already had been given, in addition to the shared insights by those of you in attendance, the board voted on several key points and came to some decisions that I want to share with you at this time. With all the expenses facing our center currently, along with those coming due in the next couple months, the board accepted the generous offer from Nancy Cottrell and Larry Turlington to step in for an unspecified period of time to help the center with many administrative duties. Nancy and Larry are not our new co-administrators, but rather two members who are willing to donate their time without accepting a salary. Next, Sue Ditch agreed to step forward, and Sue was nominated and voted on by the board to be the new treasurer. With immense gratitude to these three individuals, we applaud them for their un-wavering commitment to see our center move forward without so much as a temporary glitch. As the old adage is sometimes spoken about, "when one door closes, a new one opens," and that seems to be what took place for us at this time. As your Board President, I am committed to guiding this center into the future, along with my fellow board members, Vice President Frank Smith, Secretary Rhonda Murphy, Treasurer Sue Ditch and Assistant Treasurer Claudia Arnold. All of us will collectively nurture your spirits, continue to run our center in a professional manner, take all matters seriously and create a community here at SLC Franklin that embodies the values of love, compassion, understanding, kindness, truth and self-discovery. Right here and right now, we stand ready to forge ahead, learning from the experiences of our recent past, and embrace the infinite potential of the future. Let's all turn our focus to the future and move in that positive direction.

With a spirit of renewal and unity, we are looking ahead with optimism. Our center has always been a place where seekers of all backgrounds and beliefs come together recognizing the interconnectedness of all things. . It is this wonderful place we call our spiritual home where we embrace the power of intention, the limitless possibilities of the human spirit, the love and kindness of our congregation along with the boundless energy of the universe. Together, we shall continue to evolve, explore, and experience the Divine in a way that is uniquely our own here at SLC Franklin!

Blessed Be~~

Doug
